Provost Williams C. of E. Primary School

16th December 2022

@ProvostWilliams

As we head into the Christmas break, I want to express my thanks to all parents, carers and children who have welcomed both Mrs Baddeley and myself and for the support you have given us as we move the school forward. The term has flown by and we have achieved so much together.

This week has been extremely festive which has helped us all get in the Christmas spirit, also helped by a little snow. It was wonderful to watch the Christmas performances, and I think you will all agree that the children were all amazing!

I would also like to thank all of the staff for the time and dedication that they have put in this term. And then there was PW first Christmas day!! It was fantastic to see all the children's faces as they arrived. It really was the best end to a wonderful term.

Please have an amazing Christmas and New Year and I look forward to welcoming you all back in the New Year!

Message from the Executive Headteacher

Dear Parents/Carers

It has been a busy term but it has flown by and I can't quite believe it is nearly Christmas. This term we have implemented some new ways of working in school and I thank you for supporting us in doing this. The children have worked hard this term and have achieved a lot whether it be improvements in their academic work or social skills, they continue to give of their best and they are a credit to you.

The children have really enjoyed celebrating a Christmas Day together as a school family, for that is what Christmas is all about, spending time with your family and enjoying just being together. Our school family is important and that sense of belonging is one to nurture.

My thanks goes to Mrs Lampe Cullen and the staff team at Provost Williams for their hard work and dedication this term.

I look forward to continuing our school improvement journey with yourselves and your children and wish you all a very Merry Christmas.

Best wishes

Mrs L Baddeley

Executive headteacher

In response to the tragic incident in Solihull where 4 boys lost their lives, Warwickshire Fire & Rescue Service are urging people to take extra care while walking or playing near frozen bodies of water.

Whilst the lake or body of water may look frozen, it may not be solid enough to hold any weight and in situations involving pets, where people go in to rescue them, or children who may not see the dangers present, the situation can quickly change.

Moreno Francioso, Community Fire Prevention & Arson Manager at Warwickshire Fire & Rescue Service, said:

"We are deeply saddened to hear the news of the three young boys who have lost their lives and the young boy who is still in hospital. Our thoughts are with the families and friends of all those involved. The incident is a stark reminder of the very real dangers of open water, particularly when it's frozen. Our message to everyone right now is to stay well away from the water's edge. Please don't try to walk or skate on frozen water. Regardless of how solid it looks, you never know when the ice may give way, in which instance tragic outcomes are common."

"Please take the time now to talk to your children about the dangers of frozen lakes and why it's important for them to stay safe, so that we can prevent this happening again."

If you or someone else gets into difficulty, remember to float to live.

- Keep calm and shout for help
- Spread your arms across the surface of the ice in front of you
- If the ice is strong enough, kick your legs to slide onto the ice
- Lie flat and pull yourself towards the bank
- If the ice breaks, work your way to the bank by breaking the ice in front of you
- If you cannot climb out, wait for help and keep as still as possible, pressing your arms by your side, keeping your legs together and keeping your head clear of the water
- Once you are safe, go to hospital immediately for a check up
